

October 9, 2009

Danielle Rocheford
Author, "Mommy, I Feel Funny!"

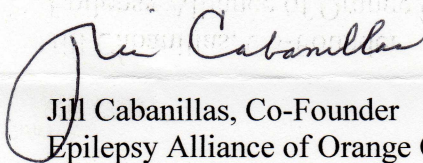

Dear Danielle,

It was such a pleasure to meet you last week! Thank you for taking time out of your busy schedule to come to our support group for parents of children with epilepsy to share your inspirational story. And a special "thank you" for reading your book, "Mommy, I Feel Funny!" to the kids in childcare. They loved it!

At the Epilepsy Alliance, we often get calls from parents asking about books and resources to help them talk to their children with epilepsy, plus their siblings and friends, about what it's like to have seizures. There are few books that deal with the subject from a child's point of view. "Mommy, I Feel Funny!" is interesting, engaging, and upbeat as it describes how Nel feels when she has a seizure and what it's like to undergo EEG and MRI testing. This book is an invaluable resource for our parents.

Most of all, "Mommy, I Feel Funny!" reassures our children with epilepsy that they can still play with their friends, ride their bikes and swing on the swings. Parents can read in the Afterword about your personal success story as well. Thank you for writing this inspirational book for children.

Sincerely,

Jill Cabanillas, Co-Founder
Epilepsy Alliance of Orange County